"Keeping It Inn is a charming and heartfelt homage to Cindy Pierce's parents and her own life growing up with them and the rest of her large rambunctious family at their inn in New Hampshire."

Performing Keeping It Inn as part of the Whitefire Theatre Solofest in Sherman Oaks, CA was a wonderful experience for me. I am proud of how the show turned out and also look forward to digging deeper for my next performance. My hope is to incorporate more of what I have learned from my director over the last seven months in my future performances.

In this show, I portray my mother, Nancy Pierce, during the last six decades of her life (1960s through 2019). The photographs were captured by

UPCOMING SUMMIT

APPEARANCE

I will be one of the presenters at the STRONGER TOGETHER Summit - Protecting Children from Online Pornography by Inviting a Public Health Response. I feel honored to be involved in this important initiative.

Connecting to Protect is a world-first global initiative to tackle children and young people's online pornography access, focusing on mental health and safety consequences. The goal is to mobilize change and invite a public health response to respond to the challenges young people face as a result of pornography access.

Connecting to Protect is addressing this global public health issue by commencing with a virtual summit—a world-first gathering of like-minded individuals to address this issue globally. And I'm excited to say, I am a part of this vitally important initiative!

A couple clicks can make all the difference in getting the word out. I hope you will consider joining the summit, following our social media pages, or possibly sharing with your network.
